Presented by the UMass Extension Agriculture and Landscape Program

The University of Massachusetts Extension Agriculture and Landscape Program will once again sponsor a seminar series for back yard gardeners. In the tradition of the Mass Aggie Seminars, the 2008 UMass Home Garden Series will feature UMass Extension Educators and UMass Amherst faculty. A broad and diverse range of topics will be presented, covering specifics within several areas including tree fruit, berries, vegetables, flowers, and herbs. Proceeds from these programs will partially support the research and outreach efforts of UMass Extension for farmers and agribusinesses in Massachusetts.
